

Careers Guidance

Rationale and commitment to CEIAG

At St George's, careers education, information, advice and guidance is essential in ensuring that our young people leave with the right tools and values to help prepare them for the future.

Careers Guidance

1:1 Careers guidance is available to students on a self-referral/ teacher- referral basis. This ensures the advice and guidance learners receive is timely and relevant to their needs.

1:1 guidance interviews are student centred, whereby the student sets the agenda for the interview. Learners have the opportunity to discuss their career plans and to consider a wide range of options that best suit their aspirations, strengths, abilities and learning styles.

We also offer independent guidance through our partner Island Futures and invite parents and carers in to meet with them alongside the young person to talk about transition plans at key points.

Island Futures provide independent information, advice and guidance to support young people to participate in education, employment and training. In partnership with St George's, the team provides fully qualified and independent careers advisers for students to access within the majority of the island's secondary schools. Our advisor from Island Futures is Ian Riley (please click link to access more information)

We are fully committed to our statutory and moral obligation to provide a holistic careers service to students, highlighting the vocational and academic routes to their preferred careers path. We are committed to providing students and their families the information they need through face- to- face meetings with an independent careers advisor, the work experience coordinator and through events such as coffee afternoons, 'Moving On' Events and Career Fairs.
